Report of a Workshop on Eco-friendly Ganesh Idol Making

Day & Date: ,Monday ,2nd September 2024

Time: 10.00am

Introduction:

Savitribai Mahila Mahavidyalaya Satara has signed an MoU with Maharashtra Vivek-vahini for the overall development of the students. Vivekvahini helps in organizing various activities to inculcate scientific approach and rational attitude towards life into the students. Many programmes help to inculcate social ethics, moral values, women empowerment and gender equality. To make the students aware of Social responsibility college always takes initiative along with different GOs and NGOs. In collaboration with Maharashtra Vivekvahini and Aroh Social Group, Satara every year Vivekvahini Committee of college organizes a workshop on Eco-friendly Ganesh idol making .In the present year IQAC took an initiative and organized workshop for the students to create awareness among them about eco-friendly Ganesh idols. Today we find various problems due to the pollution of water, air, noise and soil. India is known as a multi-cultural and multi-lingual country all over the world .There are many rituals which are celebrated in Indian community, which causes the pollution such as: Diwali, Rangpanchami and Ganeshostava. To celebrate these programmes in eco-friendly manner activity like Eco-friendly Ganesh Idol Making is organized to convey the message of preservation of Nature.

Objectives:

- To inculcate the social ethics, moral values and rational thinking

- To make the students responsible citizens
- To inculcate scientific approach towards life
- To promote the significance of pollution free nature
- To make the student able to prepare the eco-friendly Ganesh idols.

Description of Activity:

On Saturday, 2nd September 2024 a workshop on Eco –friendly Ganesh was organized by Vivekvahini, IQAC and Psycho-socio Cell. All over Maharashtra Ganeshostav is celebrated in very happy and enthusiastic way. To get the real happiness of ceremony everyone must be careful of the manner of celebration to avoid the different kind of pollution. The present workshop is conducted to create the awareness among the students about the eco-friendly Ganesh to train the students Ms.Bina Shah and Ms.Vaishali Devi were invited as the resource persons for the workshop. They gave the demo of making ganesh idols with the soil which can be easily mix with water and soil without any pollution. The purpose and resource persons were introduced by Dr.Mrs.Jayashri Aphale,Coordinator of Vivekvahini and Speak-out cell. Ms.Vaishali Devi gave demo of making Ganesh idol with clay and also explained the significance of eco-friendly Ganesh .Their demo motivated the students and some students participated actively and prepared Ganesh idols and decided to celebrate eco-friendly Ganeshostava. Ms.Smita Kumbhar, a physical director proposed votes of thanks and Shri.DilipPawar compeered the programme.

Output:

- Students came to know the meaning and significance of eco-friendly Ganeshostav.
- Students came to know how Ganeshostav caused different pollutions and how we have to overcome these problems.
- Students Learned to make Ganesh idols with clay.
- Students decided to motivate other people from their native place.
